YUKON MINT™

Seeking Artists for a Contest to Design a Yukon Gold Coin

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES AND REGULATIONS

My Yukon

ABOUT THE CONTEST

To recognize Yukon art and the Yukon, the Yukon Mint™ Corporation has approved the minting of a Yukon Gold Coin and is seeking proposals from Yukon artists to design the front (obverse) side of a gold coin.

This contest is open to all Yukon residents and offers artists the opportunity to recognize the Yukon culture, history and the land by presenting the design for the front side of a coin design which represents a complicated subject on a very small palette. Although the design will begin as a drawing, artists must think 3-dimensionally and consider that the coins may be produced in different sizes.

This will be an ongoing series of gold coins with annual contests. The gold coins will be minted in a variety of sizes that could range from ¼ ounce to 5 ounces. From the drawings submitted by artists, the Yukon Mint™ will work with a qualified mint to transform the winning submission into a 3-dimensional coin. The reverse side of the Yukon will represent the Klondike Gold Rush Stampeders, an iconic Yukon image.

PRIZES

One Grand Prize will be awarded to include $500 and a single 1 ounce gold coin, which will include the artists initials. Cash equivalent will be considered.

Runner Up Awards - $500 each. In the event the Yukon Mint™ decides to use the runner up designs for a coin design the runner up entrant will be announced and awarded a single 1 ounce gold coin as described for the Grand Prize, or equivalent.

The Grand Prize and Runner Up Submissions will become the property of the Yukon Mint™. All other submissions will be returned to the artists.

The Contest is open to all Yukon residents. Artists that are below the age of 19 years as at the submission date, must have a parent or legal guardian co-sign the contest application form and the Rights Transfer Agreement, otherwise the submission will not be accepted.

About The Yukon Mint™

The story of Canadian gold coins dates back to the Klondike Gold Rush.

In 1853, Canada adopted the gold standard as a monetary system and this standard helped develop a growing interest in minting gold at a Canadian mint. Canadian miners later lobbied for domestic refining capabilities because they were often forced to sell their gold to the United States. The idea for a Canadian Mint and Canadian gold coins was put on hold until the late 1890s, when a major gold rush in Yukon's Klondike region brought an awareness of gold mining to the forefront of Canadian consciousness, and fueled Canadian's dreams of mineral wealth. These first gold coins struck by the Royal Canadian Mint (then called the Ottawa Mint) were Canadian in almost every aspect, from raw material to design. The coins were composed of Canadian gold, approximately 90% of it from the Klondike region.

The story of Yukon gold coins starts with the Yukon Mint™.

The Yukon Mint™ is focused on creating gold coins that will be Yukon in almost every aspect, from raw material to design. In 2018, the Yukon Mint™ has launched its inaugural coin design contest, My Kaska Nation, to create its first Yukon gold coin.

The Yukon Mint™ works in partnership with First Nation and other governments, corporations and organizations to ensure local communities benefit from Yukon mining and exploration projects. The Yukon Mint™ is a wholly owned subsidiary of Golden Predator Mining Corp.
